G.O. 99-1 ✓

F I L E D

JAN 19 1999 ✓

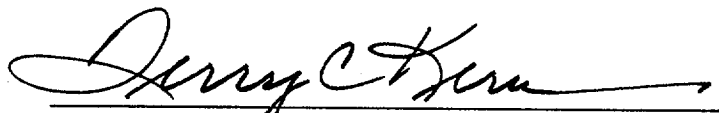

Phil Lombardi, Clerk
U.S. DISTRICT COURT

ORDER

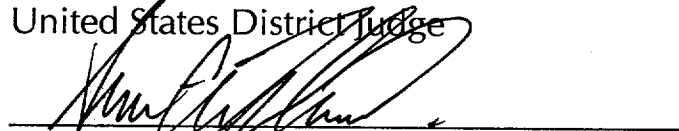

Now before the Court is the matter of the use of communication devices by jurors. Communication device means any electronic equipment by which a juror may communicate outside the courthouse or outside the range of ordinary human senses, including but not limited to, cellular phones and pagers. Upon due consideration, the Court prohibits use of communication devices by jurors.

If a juror brings a communication device to the courthouse, the juror must relinquish said device to the jury clerk for storage. Jurors may obtain their communication device during the lunch break from the jury clerk. However, the communication device must be returned to the jury clerk after the lunch break. The jury clerk will return any communication device(s) to the juror at the end of the day.

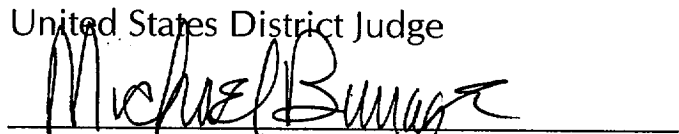

IT IS SO ORDERED this 19th day of January, 1999.

TERRY C. KERN, Chief
United States District Judge

SVEN ERIK HOLMES
